

Glen Group

SAFEGUARDING POLICY

Glen Group and our teams work within schools and other education facilities. This policy is to confirm our standard in relation to Safeguarding Children & Vulnerable Adults. Glen recognises the importance of our responsibility and are fully committed to safeguarding and protecting the welfare of Children & Vulnerable Adults.

Glen recognises its duty of care to safeguard children and young people as detailed under the Children Acts 1989 and 2004 and Working Together to Safeguard children (Department for Education, 2018), Keeping Children Safe in Education (September 2022), specifically part 1.

The Department for Education (DfE) has published an updated version of the statutory safeguarding and child protection guidance for schools in England, Keeping children safe in education (KCSIE) (DfE, 2022). This guidance will replace KCSIE 2021 when it comes into force on 1 September 2022.

The guidance sets out what schools and colleges in England must do to safeguard and promote the welfare of children and young people under the age of 18. It is directed at:

- governing bodies of maintained schools, nursery schools and colleges
- proprietors of independent schools and non-maintained special schools
- management of committees of pupil referral units (PRUs)
- senior leadership teams.

For information about previous updates to this guidance, see our CASPAR briefing: The purpose of this policy statement is:

- to protect children and young people from harm or maltreatment
- to provide the Glen team with the principles that guide our approach to Safeguarding.
- To ensure Glen employees understand their responsibility and how to report any concerns.

This policy applies to anyone working on behalf of Glen.

This policy has been drawn up on the basis of legislation, policy and guidance that seeks to Safeguard in the Schools and Colleges where Glen operate.

This policy statement should be read alongside other policies and procedures and with any guidance or other related documents provided by our clients, third party trainers IHASCO and within our Glen Aware Toolbox talk training refresher - See Think Act campaign.

2. ensuring we all have a responsibility to help prevent the abuse and neglect of children, young people (those under 18 years of age) and vulnerable adults and to report any such abuse that we discover or suspect.
3. ensuring all allegations, reports or suspicions of abuse will be taken seriously and responded to in a swift and appropriate manner.
4. Recruiting and selecting employees safely, ensuring all necessary checks are made and area auditable. Exercising proper care in the appointment and selection of all those who will work in the same vicinity as children and young people.
5. Recording, storing, and using information professionally and securely, in line with data protection legislation and guidance
6. Keeping up to date with and following UK legislation and good practice recommendations in relation to safeguarding children and young people.
7. Supporting, training, monitoring, and providing supervision to all those who undertake this work and ensuring that they agree to and follow the agreed procedures of our Safeguarding Policy.
8. Building a culture where employees treat each other with respect and are comfortable about sharing concerns.

Role of the Glen Designated Safeguarding Lead

Safeguarding is everyone’s responsibility. At Glen we have a Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) Kim Stevens, Business Improvement Director, whose responsibilities include:

- providing a direct point of contact for any employee who wishes to raise a concern.
- ensuring all concerns are dealt with in a prompt and secure manner, and in line with our client’s procedures.
- ensuring that any concerns are recorded and managed in an appropriate manner.

Dealing with an allegation of abuse

The abuse of children and young people can take many forms.

- Physical Injury- any injury to a child or young person,
- Neglect - a failure to meet a child or young person’s basic needs for food, warmth, protection, and care.
- Emotional Abuse -The persistent, severe emotional ill treatment, or rejection, that severely affects the emotional and behavioural development of a child or young person. This can include cyberbullying.
- Sexual Abuse -The use of a child or young person to meet an adult’s sexual needs.
- Domestic abuse has been added to the list of safeguarding issues that all staff should be aware of. The guidance makes it clear that domestic abuse:
  - a) can be psychological, physical, sexual, financial, or emotional

- b) can impact on children through seeing, hearing or experiencing the effects of domestic abuse and/or experiencing it through their own intimate relationships
- c) The DfE’s advice on Sexual violence and sexual harassment between children in schools and colleges (DfE, 2021) has been merged into Keeping children safe in education 2022. As part of this merger, the term “child-on-child abuse” rather than “peer-on-peer abuse” is used throughout the updated guidance.

The most important consideration for Glen employees and our management is to safeguard and promote the welfare of the children and young people.

Any allegation of abuse must be taken seriously, and Glen has a duty to report it to the client and relevant statutory agencies.

Allegations may come from a child, or young person, themselves and may relate to abuse from a family member, or someone outside the family. If a child or young person begins to tell a member of the Glen team about abuse, it is VITAL that you do the following:

- Never promise to keep it a secret and not to tell anyone.
- Listen carefully but do not press for information.
- Reassure the child, or young person, that they have done the right thing by telling someone.
- Report this to KimStevens@glegroupltd.com our dedicated safeguarding lead and the Safeguarding lead at the site where you work. This is confidential information; do not discuss it with anyone else.

Important things to remember:

It is not the responsibility of Glen to investigate the truth of any allegation.

What has been disclosed is very confidential and should only be shared with others on a need-to-know basis. The first person to be told of the abuse may be asked to provide a statement for the Police.

After telling of abuse a child or young person can be distressed, frightened and worried about what will happen next. They should be reassured that they have done the right thing and should not be left on their own.

The best interest of the child or young person, and the need for the abuse to stop, comes before the interests of the organisation or the abuser.

Safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children is everyone’s responsibility. Everyone who comes into contact with children and their families has a role to play.

DBS Policy

An Enhanced DBS check is required for all Glen employees who work at Schools, Colleges and other establishments as confirmed by our client.

Everyone in our team who come into contact with children will be vetted and obtain a DBS check,
